Fun Fact

Mailing buildings has been illegal in the United States since 1916, when a man mailed a 40,000 ton brick house across the state of Utah in order to avoid paying high freight rates.

Critical Illness Plans

When families go through a critical illness, 33% of them deplete all of their savings.	the policy holder is given a lump sum. The benefits are paid directly to the policy holder. That money can then in turn be used on any expenses that have been acquired.	surgery, angioplasty, ath-erectomy, and stent re-placements occur. Cate-gory B includes major organ transplant, renal failure, multiple sclerosis, Alzheimer's, and paraly-sis.
When dealing with a criti-cal illness, bills do not stop piling up. However, with critical illness plans finances are kept at bay.	Critical Illness Plans are available through two categories. Category A includes coverage if, a heart attack, stoke, heart transplant, by-pass	Premiums for these plans have low rates, and do not increase with age. And as age increases the benefits do not decrease.

Recipe

Baked Chicken Parmesan

Ingredients:

- 1 tsp Worcestershire sauce
- 4 boneless chicken breasts
- 1/3 cup bread crumbs
- 1/4 cup melted butter
- 1/3 cup grated Parmesan cheese
- 1/2 tsp garlic powder
- 1/8 cup dried parsley
- 1 Tbs. Dijon mustard

Mix together the butter, garlic powder, Dijon, and Worcestershire in a dish. Mix the bread crumbs, Parmesan, and parsley together in another. Dip the chicken in the butter, then in the bread crumbs, then place in a buttered or greased 9x9 or so pan. Bake at 350 for 50-60 minutes, until done through.
