Fun Fact

Most elephants weigh less than the tongue of a blue whale.

A married couple referred to an insurance company about applying for life insurance. During the meeting the husband decided against getting the insurance, while the wife was convinced on getting the plan. After deliberation the husband gave in, and an insurance policy was purchased. Just a few days after the plan was made official, the husband was struck by a train on his way home from work and was killed instantly. Due to the newly purchased life insurance, the wife was saved from financial ruin. Would your family have the same saving grace?
